

Privacy Policy

Introduction

This website respects the privacy of our visitors and does not store any public membership information.

Your Internet browser may store a small amount of data (cookies) to facilitate some features of this website. Please see our cookie policy for more information.

Our Privacy Policy

- No data is collected or saved on this website / webserver. Contact forms are securely passed to our email servers and received like all other email message correspondence. All internal correspondence is held in accordance with our company GDPR policy.